Recent graduate Tina Dawson on The Canadian Aesthetics Academy

“After researching many schools across North America, I found Canadian Aesthetics Academy was the best choice for me. Not only did they take the time to value my choices, but they were also really supportive and accommodating.

“They also gave us additional insight and took us to seminars where we had the opportunity to meet wonderful people along the way. Ever since I was a little girl playing with make-up and doing the hair for my family and friends, I knew that it was a passion and dream of mine.

“I am currently doing events for fashion shows, music videos and wedding parties, etc. And to conquer my future goals of being a successful spa owner.

“Thanks to the wonderful people at the Canadian Aesthetics Academy for making my dreams come true!”

Remember to believe in yourself — and never give up!

A new alternative to cosmetic surgery

Medical Aesthetics has taken a whole new turn, becoming the new alternative to cosmetic surgery. Because of its non-invasive approach, medical aesthetics has become the new leader in preferred cosmetic treatment.

So what exactly is medical aesthetics?

Anti-aging treatments are progressing into an area of expertise involving both cosmetic surgeons/dermatologists and aestheticians. By combining these two talents and the latest diagnostic techniques, we are forming a bio-identical service now referred to as “Medical Aesthetics.”

The two most popular treatments are the non-surgical face lift and photo rejuvenation. When starting early (by the age of 27-30, depending on personal aesthetic prognosis and patient assessment) the results can be astonishing. These two treatments combined can delay cosmetic surgery by an astounding 10 to 15 years. Results for this procedure take time, however, up to three months for optimum results.

The other alternative to surgery is the “Thread Lift,” an exciting new facelift using a minimal invasion technique. Small barbed sutures are inserted into the subcutaneous tissue of the face, brow, cheek jowl and neck. The results of this procedure are immediately visible.

Traditional surgeries are taking a back seat to medical aesthetic procedures. With little to no down time, most procedures are done in a dermatology clinic or cosmetic surgeon’s office. They are performed by medical aestheticians or nurses under the supervision of a doctor, depending on the type of procedure and established method.
