Your Quest for a career starts here.

NorQuest College is Alberta's largest community college, serving about 10,000 full- and part-time students each year through campuses in Edmonton, Wetaskiwin and Stony Plain and community learning centres in seven other Alberta communities. Nearly 21 per cent of NorQuest College's student body self identifies as being of Aboriginal ancestry. As a result, we have designed an extensive network of services tailored specifically to their needs, including Aboriginal Student Support Services, an Aboriginal counselor and Elder support.

NorQuest's Aboriginal programs and services give learners the opportunity to enhance their academic abilities and obtain the necessary pre-requisites to go on to further study within the context of Aboriginal culture. Our inclusive approach helps prepare graduates for finding employment or going on to further education.

NorQuest's Aboriginal programs and services include the recently revised Aboriginal University/College Transition Program. This one-year program gives you the support and the contacts you need to be successful in your faculty or program of choice at the University of Alberta, MacEwan University and NAIT.

The College also provides an Aboriginal ceremonial room which provides a place for students to take part in traditional healing ceremonies, meet with an Elder or socialize between classes.
