WHY JOIN The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW)?
 The IBEW is the largest Electrical Union in the world and is over one hundred and fifteen years old. The members are proud to be members of the IBEW. The electrician and apprentice electricians do electrical installation in homes, hospitals, schools, mines sawmills, power dams, pulpmills, sub stations, all different types of building etc. The IBEW offers you medical and dental coverage, upgrading courses, retirement benefits, negotiated wages, dignity and respect in the workplace.

We in the IBEW light up the world with power, the power is yours, come and see what we are all about and judge yourself accordingly. You could make a better living for yourself and your family, the choice is yours. Also see the "IBEWHourPower.com" our television magazine.

School of Audio Engineering and Music Production

Electronic Music Production, Recording, Ableton Live, Pro Tools, Logic, Reason.

Get Pro Tools certified – Pro Tools 101, 110, 130,201 and 210M. Study with a certified Ableton trainer.

Harbourside Institute of Technology (HIT) is committed to training students in becoming the best of this generation's audio engineers and music producers.

Combining classroom theory with 'hands on' practical application, Harbourside guides students through all aspects of audio production, recording and mixing processes.

Every student is provided with a digital audio workstation which functions as a personal production studio for beat creation, mixing and effects editing.

Classes are taught in the environment of a world class studio that features the best in digital and analog audio technology.

The Audio Engineering and Music Production program (AEMP) is a nine month program, providing 720 hours of integrated theory and real world studio practicals. Classes are 4 hours per day, 5 days per week. This program is for those who are serious about obtaining a career in the audio industry.

The Advanced Recording Artist program (ARA) is a unique program providing students with the opportunity of collaborating with award winning Engineers, Producers and Artist Management, while gaining hands-on experience working inside an artist run record label. Under the guidance of faculty advisors this 3 month diploma program is designed to take you through the entire production process, from concept to final product where students will be involved in all aspects of recording and releasing music, including, A&R, Artist Development, Sales, Marketing, Promotion and Publicity. Students will have access to some of vancouver's top studio musicians to assist in the recording stages of their production.
