

Go Where Memories Have Room to Grow

Founded by the Sawridge First Nations Band of Slave Lake, our company embraces its native heritage, beliefs and values... We offer guests the comfort esteemed by the First Nations culture with a level of hospitality that transcends the centuries.

Whether surrounded by the beauty of forests and lakes or nestled in rolling foothills, a Sawridge hotel is a welcome refuge for travellers in Alberta. Each location – Edmonton, Fort McMurray, Jasper, Slave Lake, and Peace River – possesses unmatched hospitality and authentic First Nations flavour. Founded by the Sawridge First Nations Band of Slave Lake, our company embraces its native heritage, beliefs and values.

Our hotel properties are natural, clean and demonstrate respect for the environment. We offer guests the comfort esteemed by the First Nations culture with a level of hospitality that transcends the centuries. Décor is presented in local woods and stone, accented with indigenous art and fireplaces to represent the four elements of air, earth, fire and water. Our goal is to offer the highest grade of accommodations, dining and meeting facilities, and to provide excellent service at all times.

Adventurers of all kinds make Sawridge their natural choice for spur-of-the-moment road trips, weekend getaways, family vacations, and everything in between. Enjoy true comfort, convenience, and value when you visit any one of our five hotels throughout Alberta; each one provides plenty of services and activities for every type of traveller. Award-winning restaurants, relaxing lounges, spas, and high-speed internet are just a few of the amenities that our guests appreciate.

We are also the premier location for weddings and corporate events. Each location offers a broad range of function rooms, from tasteful boardrooms and banquet halls to spacious ballrooms and facilities with state-of-the-art multimedia services. And while we offer the latest refinements, planning an event at one of our inns is hassle-free. The outstanding service of our personnel and solid experience of our banquet team members also play an important role in making your event a success. Just like you, we want to impress every guest.

Despite the luxury we provide our guests, Sawridge remains a down-to-earth, grassroots company. The recipe for our success contains four key ingredients: we provide excellent customer service, we value our staff, we treat our suppliers as partners and we support the communities in which we live. Our philosophy recognizes the tradition of respect, fairness and a commitment to exceptional value for our customers.

You dream of making your vacation, visit, or gathering a cherished one. This means more than just finding a hotel; it means selecting one with quality and atmosphere that will inspire great memories. Born deep in the heart of Alberta, Sawridge maintains the First Nation tradition of genuine hospitality.
